U.S. Orbits Two Satellites With Single Rocket

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States, scoring a spectacular space "first," rimmed two satellites into orbit with a single rocket today.

The doubleheader rocket that turned the trick was a two-stage Thor-Able-Star, an Air Force vehicle making only its second flight. It rose smoothly from its searchlight-illuminated pad at 12:55 a.m. and streaked like a fiery comet toward the southeast.

The second stage fired for about four minutes, shut off and coasted for 20 minutes, then reignited for 13 seconds to kick the satellites into orbit.

The two new moonlets flashing in the skies are Transit 11-A, a second experimental navigation aid satellite, and a basket-ball-sized aluminum sphere crammed with instruments to measure solar radiation.

The latter is called a "piggy back" satellite because it hitchhiked a ride aboard the larger Transit payload.

Transit 11-A is a 36-inch ball weighing 225 pounds. The tinier round package, looking much like a sea diver's helmet, was clamped to it until a spring device separated the pair in orbit.

America tried once before, with a Vanguard rocket, to fire a pair of satellites into orbit simultaneously, but failed. As far as is known, the Soviet Union has not attempted such a feat.

Confirmation of orbit came 1 1/2 hours after launch when the satellite duo—the smaller leading the way—passed over a Seattle station on their first globe-circling passes.

Navy officials in Washington reported the satellites were spinning approximately in their intended orbits and were transmitting strong signals. They said it would be some time before the exact apogee and perigee are determined.

Both were aimed at near-circular orbits 500 miles high and at courses which would take them over all parts of the world between the Arctic and Antarctic circles. "This covers most of the Soviet Union."

Transit 11-A is an advanced version of Transit 11-B, which was hoisted into orbit by the first Thor-Able-Star last April 13. Both are forerunners of an operational network of Transit satellites that can give ships, submarines and airplanes accurate position fixes in any weather, day or night, anywhere in the world.

Two or three more test transits are scheduled for launching before the system becomes operational, probably in 1962. Then, four of these space lighthouses will whirl about the earth in evenly spaced orbits. They will radio a constant stream of information to be translated by navigators into longitude and latitude.

They are expected to provide accurate fixes within one-tenth of a mile. Present navigation aids give position fixes of half a mile at best and are dependent on weather.

The Defense Department has given high military priority to the Transit program because of its importance to Polaris missile submarines. By extending a whip antenna above the ocean surface, these nuclear subs will be able to obtain a position reading from the nearest Transit. This information would be vital in plotting missile trajectories.

Primary mission of the piggy back satellite was to measure various types of radiation in the ionosphere, an electrified belt extending from 35 miles to several hundred miles above the earth.

Radio May Go Out on Pioneer V

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a week, the earth may lose radio contact with Pioneer V, now orbiting around the sun more than 20 million miles away.

The huge radio telescope in Jodrell Bank, England, shot a signal at Pioneer V Tuesday, the five-watt radio in the 26-inch space probe responded instantly.

At Jodrell Bank, a spokesman said that Pioneer V's batteries were deteriorating, and the radio telescope will probably be unable to track it any longer than another week.

Its designers had not expected the space probe to send signals from more than 20 million miles out. It was launched in March.

City Buys New Vapor Lights for $18,549

The City of Hope and Water & Light Plant this morning let the bid on the new mercury vapor lighting system to the low of five bidders, General Electric Supply Company.

Approval of plans to bring a modern lighting system designed to give a high level of light distribution to the downtown areas of Hope was given in a meeting of the Water and Light Commission on June 2.

The 80 new lighting fixtures will be of modern design, in aluminum finish with a teardrop globe head, and the 400 watt bulbs are designed to give nine thousand hours of service, or approximately two and a half years of use.

Total cost of the fixtures will be $18,549.45, and delivery of all items, poles, fixtures, and lamps, is to be made within 8 weeks.

The electrical crews of the Hope Water & Light Plant will begin preliminary work on the foundations, and changes in the electrical distribution system which will supply power to the new system to expedite the completion of the job. The fixtures are "assigned to stand 100 mile per hour winds. Assisting in the planning of the system was the engineering division of the Arkansas Power and Light Company. When completed, the City will have one of the most modern and complete lighting systems in the state.

Bonds Sold for East Side Sewer District

The Board of Commissioners of the East Side Sewer Improvement District met with representatives of the E. A. Villareal Investment Company and completed the sale of bonds in the amount of $82,000 to finance the cost of construction of the sewer improvement facilities yesterday.

This assures the development of a sewer system for the east part of Hope. The district begins at O'Neal Creek and extends down Highway 67 to reach the Meyer's Bakery and down Highway 4 to the city limits. The area to be served has 92 residences and business locations. This will bring sewer service to a lot of undeveloped property in this area and will provide facilities that could service an additional 250 houses.

The bonds mature serially over a period of 20 years and will bear interest at the rate of 5%. The assessments are adequate to retire the issue in about 16 years. Additional growth in this area will shorten this period of time. Based on an estimate of growth prepared by the project engineer, the bond issue could be paid off in as little as 12 years. Members of the Water and Light Commission sat in on the discussion and assisted the sewer improvement district commissioners in the negotiations.

John Hawkins, engineer for the project, has detailed plans almost completed for the project and it is hoped that a contract for the work can be awarded and work begun before the winter season.

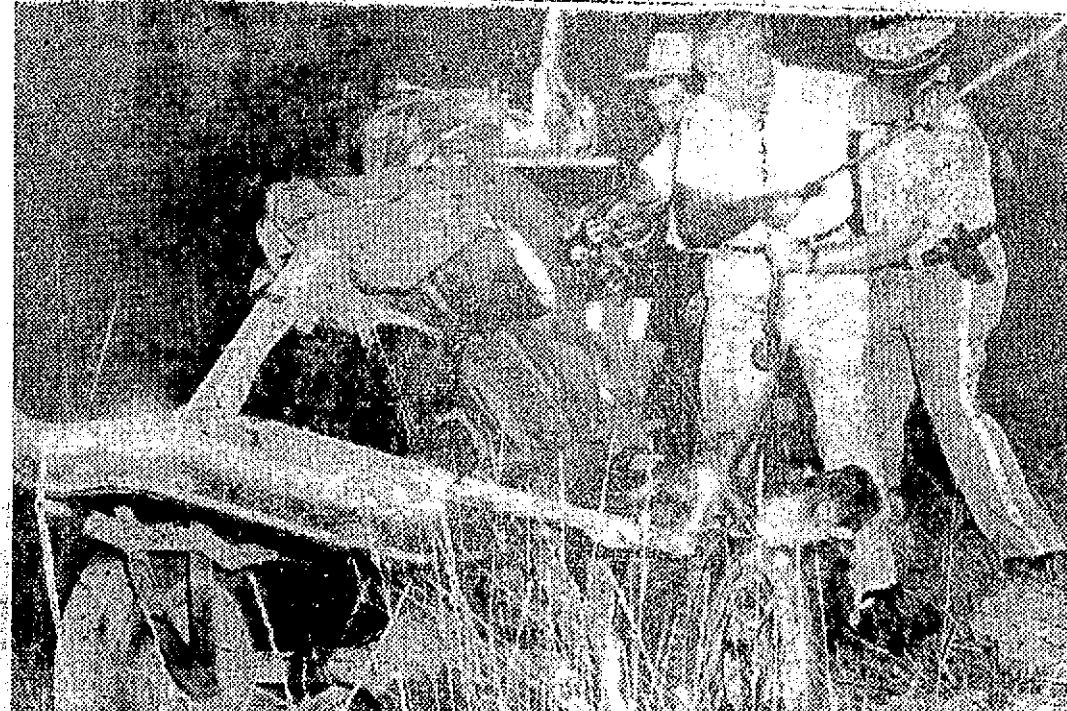

Gus Davis, 71, Dies Today in Local Hospital

Gus Davis, aged 71, a resident of Fulton, died in a local hospital this morning. He and Mrs. Davis operated Frieda's Pie Shop at Fulton. He was a member of the Fulton Baptist Church.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Don Harkness of Kansas City, Mo. Funeral arrangements will be announced by Oakerest.

Thieves Hit Two Local Businesses

Thieves hit two local businesses yesterday, getting money at a service station and property at a store.

About 2:30 p. m. at Hosey's Station on Third, downtown, a small Negro boy about 10 or 12 years old went into the cash register while the attendant was working in the station's washroom. The attendant heard the cash register's ring and started to the front of the station when the Negro youth ran out the door and made his getaway up North Walnut street.

City Police also report the theft of a television tube checker, a power saw and two General Electric radios from the J. C. Atchley Co., on South Main sometime yesterday.

Temperature Shoots Up in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures shot almost to the 100 mark in some sections of Arkansas yesterday—the first official day of summer.

A maximum of 98 degrees was recorded at Little Rock, El Dorado and Pine Bluff.

At Little Rock, for which the U. S. Weather Bureau keeps complete records, it was hottest day since July 15, 1957, when the temperature rose to 100 degrees.

Other maximums yesterday included 97 at Fort Smith and 95 at Phipps and Walnut Ridge. The lowest maximum was 91 at Fayetteville.

County Oil Men Against Tax Increase

L. E. Poter, Mobil Oil Company dealer, Hope, was elected the new chairman of the Hempstead County Oil Dealers Association during a recent meeting in Hope. E. J. Whitman, Gulf Oil Corporation, Hope, was elected vice-chairman and secretary of the organization and Norman Moore, Arkansas Fuel Oil Corporation, Hope, was elected to serve as school chairman.

After election of officers, the local oil men discussed the highway program in the state, particularly as it affects Hempstead County. Texas and legislative problems were discussed and the group unanimously opposed any further increase in the state and federal gasoline taxes, which now amount to 10 1/2 cents per gallon.

The Hempstead County association is going to "uppy all junior and senior high schools in the county with free school program materials pertaining to the supplemental teaching of general science, social studies, vocational guidance, chemistry and economics of the petroleum industry."

Red Cross Asks Items for Chile

Bill Caldwell, President of the Hempstead County United Fund and Dr. Lloyd Guerin, Chairman of the American Red Cross Chapter of the American Red Cross jointly released this plea in support of the "Chilean Relief Program."

Due to the recent earthquakes in that country, there is a dire need of money, clothing, and bedding as their winter season is nearing.

A national appeal is being made by the American Red Cross and other agencies throughout the country to help support these people. In view of the world conditions, residents of this area should help support this program as a good neighbor policy or as a means of showing the rest of the world that the United States has not lost its leadership. Contributions can be mailed to Lloyd Guerin Hempstead County American Red Cross Chapter P. O. Box 546 Hope, Arkansas.

Clothing and bedding is being assembled by the American Red Cross in Texarkana.

Argentina Has Eichmann Case Before U. N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Argentine officials today indicated that efforts to arrange a meeting between Argentine President Arturo Frondizi and Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion on the Adolf-Eichmann case had failed.

A spokesman told newsmen that no meeting between the two leaders had been scheduled as announced by Israel's permanent U.N. delegate, Michael Comay, Tuesday night. He said Argentina would push for immediate U.N. debate on the transfer of the former Nazi official from Argentina to Israel.

This word came as the 11-nation Security Council prepared to meet on the Argentine complaint.

Argentine delegate Mario Amadeo had ready a 40-minute speech for the council, detailing his government's complaint that Argentina's sovereignty was violated when so-called Jewish volunteers captured the former Nazi official in Buenos Aires last month and spirited him to Israel to face trial on charges of major responsibility in the extermination of millions of Jews during World War II.

Amadeo also planned to introduce a resolution calling for "adequate reparation" from Israel.

Russia in Rebuke to Red China

LONDON (AP) — In an apparent rebuke to Red China's leaders, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Tuesday the Kremlin has no intention of giving up its policy of peaceful coexistence and relaxation of tension.

"No world war is needed for the triumph of Socialist ideas throughout the world," Khrushchev said in a speech at the third congress of the Romanian Congress party in Bucharest.

"These ideas will get the upper hand in the peaceful competition between the countries of socialism and capitalism," he declared. The text of the speech was published by Tass, the Soviet news agency.

Khrushchev did not mention Red China, but his remarks were an obvious reply to Peking's sharpshoot at the Soviet premier's professed policy of seeking better relations with the capitalist nations. Chinese propaganda has harped on Lenin's statement that war between communism and capitalism is inevitable.

Khrushchev recalled that the co-existence policy was linked directly to the line laid down by the 20th Soviet party congress of 1956 that "war is not inevitable in our time."

"Those who do not understand this," he said, "do not believe in the power of creative abilities of the working class, underestimate the might of the Socialist camp and do not believe in the great attractiveness of socialism which has clearly demonstrated its advantages over capitalism."

In a new blast at the Eisenhower administration, Khrushchev said the Soviet people hope to see in America "the election of a president and the formation of a government."

It was rather comical to see two men chase a pig through the downtown streets this morning in a 90-degree weather. It wasn't so comical to them.

Lopsided Senate Vote Approves U.S.-Jap Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today ratified the U.S.-Japanese Security Treaty by an overwhelming vote.

With the Senate proposal, all that is left to bring the 10-year pact into force is the formal exchange of ratification documents.

Japan's ratification became effective last Sunday.

The U.S. instruments of ratification will be flown to Hawaii for President Eisenhower's signature. From there, they will be taken to Tokyo for the exchange.

Japanese leftists, whose rioting led to cancellation of Eisenhower's visit to Japan have threatened to blockade U.S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II and Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama in their homes to prevent them from making the exchange of documents.

Today's Senate vote came after a flurry of speechmaking sharply critical of the administration.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, said the treaty itself is in the "best interests" of the United States, Japan and the entire free world, but said the United States must shore up free countries with "a really massive offensive for peace."

And Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), also supporting ratification, accused the State Department of being "clumsily" drawn into Japanese politics in support of the Kishi government despite what he called its "widespread unpopularity" in Japan.

Sen. Russell Long (D-La.), leading a group of southern senators in opposition to the pact again attacked what he called its lopsided provisions in favor of Japan.

"We give much and gain nothing we do not already have," he contended.

Long protested that the treaty binds the United States to defend Japan without Japan's being obliged to defend this country outside of Japanese soil.

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Swift and overwhelming Senate approval of the new 10-year security pact between the United States and Japan seemed assured today.

A vote on the treaty was deferred unexpectedly Tuesday night after about 6 1/2 hours of debate. But leaders said it was simply a case of senators being tired and wanting to go home.

Agreement was reached to vote after an additional half hour of debate at today's session.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, said he thought no more than 8 to 10 votes would be cast against the treaty.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview that

Delinquency Discussed to Kiwanians

While there is no serious juvenile delinquency problem existing in Hope today, much of the nation's problem in larger towns and cities could be reduced by first curbing adult delinquency, Deputy Prosecuting Attorney John L. Wilson told the Kiwanis club at its luncheon meeting yesterday.

The child looks to its parents for help and guidance and we all should set good examples in our homes, in our place of business, and elsewhere while we are in contact with the youth of today.

President Plans to Hit Back at Chinese Claims

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

HONOLULU (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported today to be planning to hit back at Red China claims that his Far Eastern tour was an ignominious failure.

The President's rebuttal, a contention that much good was accomplished despite cancellation of his visit to Japan will come, it was understood, who he reports to the American people next week.

Eisenhower will make a nationwide television-radio address within a few days after returning to Washington. Present indications are he will arrive there Saturday or Sunday.

Announcement of the President's plans to go on the air was made by White House Secretary James C. Hagerty as Eisenhower, who arrived in Hawaii from the Orient Monday, continued to relax in glorious weather. He arranged to play another round of golf today.

The President talked over his Far Eastern journey by telephone Tuesday with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, in Washington.

After the 25-minute conversation, Hagerty reported that both Eisenhower and Herter feel that the President's visit to the Philippines, Nationalist China and Korea were completely successful.

"The trip to the Japanese capital was canceled because of what Eisenhower and Premier Nobusuke Kishi called Communist promoted rioting in Tokyo."

Saying he had not seen a complete account, Hagerty declined comment on Herter telling a congressional committee that the administration had misjudged the riotous situation which led to cancellation of Eisenhower's Tokyo visit.

Told that Herter also testified that Eisenhower is abandoning personal high-level diplomacy and plans no more goodwill trips abroad, Hagerty remarked only that he has been saying for some time that he knew of no arrangements for any additional trips outside the country.

Even as the President made plans for a TV-radio report after returning to Washington, the Red China radio was denouncing the whole Eisenhower journey as an ignominious failure.

Launching an "anti-U. S. imperialist week" the Peking regime said Tuesday that everywhere the President went he "made a laughing stock of himself and was condemned."

Communists Meeting

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and top East European leaders attended the opening today of the Romanian Communist party's third congress.

The conference is expected to discuss an economic plan covering a period of 15 years. Romania would be the last Communist ruled country to adopt such a superplan.

Calls for Boycott

ROME (AP) — The Italian Actors' Union Monday night asked its members and foreign actors to boycott the Venice Film Festival this year to protest the naming of a Roman Catholic film censor as festival director.

An actors meeting in Rome also registered a protest against Umberto Tupini, minister of spectacles. They said he had "tried to limit the liberty of expression in the cinema."

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 52

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the State of Arkansas, and by the House of Representatives, a majority of all members elected to each House agreeing thereto:

That the following is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon, at such an election, adopt such amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to-wit:

SECTION 1. Intelligence and virtue being the safeguards of liberty and bulwark of a free and good government, it is hereby declared to be the public policy that Arkansas shall ever provide financial aid whereby all residents of this State between the ages of six and eighteen years may, as desired by them or their parents or guardians, receive gratuitous instruction; and, that the manner of administering such aid can best be determined at the local level.

SECTION 2. Financial aid to carry out the aforesaid declared policy of the people of this State shall be raised at both the State and local levels through taxation now or hereafter authorized by law. Financial aid at the State level shall be provided in such amounts as shall from time to time be determined by the qualified electors of the respective school districts.

SECTION 3. The qualified electors of each school district shall have the right to determine by their vote at a special election called for the purpose, the manner of applying the financial aid available for the instruction of residents of the district between the ages of six and eighteen years; and such instruction may be provided either: (a) through a system of free public schools whereof the district will provide the physical plant, employ instructors, and do any and all things necessary to maintain a general, suitable and efficient system of free schools to be operated by the district; or (b) through student education financial aid whereof the district will apply all available funds for the equal benefit of all such residents for the periods of time during which they respectively receive instruction in this State.

SECTION 4. Subject to such limitations as may be imposed by law, exclusive jurisdiction for the government of each school district shall be vested in a board of directors.

SECTION 5. There is hereby levied and there shall be collected an annual per capita tax of one dollar from each resident of this State over the age of twenty-one years, and the proceeds thereof shall be used for educational purposes in such manner as is now or hereafter may be provided by law.

SECTION 6. Not less than fifteen days next preceding each annual school election, the board of directors of each school district shall prepare, approve and make public a proposed budget of expenditures in which there shall be set forth the amount of funds determined by the board as being necessary to provide, during the next following fiscal year, gratuitous instruction for residents of the district between the ages of six and eighteen years. The proposed budget shall set forth the estimated amounts, respectively, of funds necessary: (a) to meet the debt service requirements of the district's issued and outstanding bonds; (b) to meet its other contractual obligations; (c) to pay insurance premiums on, and cost of maintenance or custodial care of, buildings and other property owned by the district; and (d), in such detail as the board shall determine, the estimated amount of funds required for other educational purposes. From the total of the aforementioned requirements for the fiscal year shall be deducted the estimated amount of funds to be available to the district from State aid and from all other sources other than the local property tax, and the remainder as so determined shall be designated and known as the budget deficit. Based upon the assessed valuation of all taxable property within the territorial bounds of the district for the then current year, the board of directors shall determine the rate of tax levy necessary to provide, when applied to the amount of said assessed valuation, funds of sufficient amount to meet the aforesaid budget deficit; and the rate of tax levy as so determined shall be submitted for the approval or disapproval of the qualified electors of the district at the next following annual school election held by the district voting on the proposition shall approve the rate of tax levy proposed by the board of directors, then taxes shall be collected at the rate so approved. In the event the rate shall not be approved at any such election, then taxes shall be collected at the rate of thirty (30) mills on each dollar of assessed valuation, or at the rate approved at the next preceding annual school election, whichever rate shall be the lower figure. Provided, that no rate of tax levy shall ever be less than the aggregate of the rates of any continuing levies theretofore approved for the purpose of meeting the debt service requirements of the district's issued and outstanding bonds unless funds for the payment thereof shall have otherwise been specifically provided for.

SECTION 7. With respect to each school district, proposals for the issuance of bonds and for the collection of taxes at a continuing rate of levy for the payment thereof may be submitted by the board of directors for the approval or disapproval of the qualified electors voting on the proposition at any annual school election; and, upon petition of not less than ten percent of the qualified electors of the district, or by resolution of the board of directors, such proposals may be submitted for the approval or disapproval of the qualified electors voting on any such proposition at a special election called for the purpose by the County Judge. No school district may issue bonds unless a majority of the qualified electors voting on any such proposition at a school election shall approve the same; and no bonds or other evidences of debt hereafter issued by any school district shall be secured by a lien on the property of the district, and no district may pledge any of its revenues for the payment of said bonds or other evidences of debt except revenues to be derived from the collection of taxes upon taxable property within the district under a continuing rate of levy approved by a majority of the qualified electors voting on the proposition at a school election. The principal amount of any proposed bond issue may include the estimated amount of interest to be paid on such bonds during the first year.

SECTION 8. The manner of applying financial aid for the instruction of residents of any school district between the ages of six and eighteen years shall be changed, effective immediately, from the then existing manner to any other manner authorized by Section 3 hereof, whenever the proposition of making such change shall be approved by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the district voting on the proposition at a special school election called for that purpose by the County Judge of the county in which all or the major portion of the land area within the territorial bounds of any such district is located. The County Judge shall call such special election within thirty days after the receipt by him: (a) of a petition containing the signatures of not less than a majority of the board of directors of the district; or (b) of petitions containing the signatures of not less than ten percent of the qualified electors of the district. Provided, that not less than twelve months shall elapse after any such special election before another special election may be called for the purpose of again voting on the proposition of changing the manner of applying financial aid.

In each instance in which the manner of applying financial aid for the instruction of residents of the district between the ages of six and eighteen years shall be changed, then all funds of the district, save only such funds as are necessary to meet the debt service requirements of the district's issued and outstanding bonds, to meet its other contractual obligations, or to pay insurance premiums on, and cost of maintenance or custodial care of, the district, shall be used for student education financial aid, and shall be applied equally for the benefit of all such residents for the periods of time during which they respectively receive instruction in this State.

SECTION 9. Either branch of the General Assembly at a regular or special session thereof may propose amendments to this measure, and, if any such proposal be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each house, such proposal shall be submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at a special election called for the purpose by the Governor; and if a majority of the qualified electors voting at such special election adopt such amendment the same shall be operative on and after the 30th day after the election at which it is approved, unless otherwise specified in the amendment. Nothing in this section contained shall be construed to limit the power of the General Assembly to submit proposed amendments to this measure as provided by Section 22 of Article 19 of the Constitution of this State.

SECTION 10. The provisions of this measure are hereby declared to be severable.

SECTION 11. Article 14 and Amendments Nos. 11 and 40 to the Constitution of this State are hereby repealed.

SECTION 12. This amendment shall be self-executing, and its provisions shall be treated as mandatory, but laws shall be enacted by the General Assembly to facilitate its operation.

SECTION 13. This amendment shall take effect and be in full

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF WILLIE E. TAYLOR, DECEASED.

NO. 1348

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held by the Arkansas Water Pollution Control Commission in the Circuit Court Room of the Miller County Court House, Texarkana, Arkansas at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, July 8, 1960. The purpose of the hearing is to receive evidence from interested parties as to ways and means of eliminating pollution found to exist in the Lower Red River Drainage Basin; whether the Commission should issue an order prohibiting the discharge of such pollutants into such drainage basin and if so, when such order should be effective.

Investigation has established that municipal and industrial wastes originating from sources in the foregoing area are causing serious pollution of surface waters in such area. A copy of the investigation report may be obtained from the Commission.

All interested parties are invited to be present at the above time and place. Oral statements will be heard, but for accuracy of record, all important facts and arguments should be submitted in writing, in duplicate, where practical. Written statements may be handed to the undersigned at the hearing or mailed to him before-hand.

This notice is given pursuant to Section 5 of the Water Pollution Control Act (Act 472 of 1949).

Wants Quick Ratification of Jap Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said today the sooner the U.S.-Japanese security pact is ratified, the better it will be.

He told a Senate appropriations subcommittee nothing that has happened in Japan has changed the desirability of Senate ratification of the treaty at an early date.

Ratification of the pact by the Japanese Diet became effective Sunday.

Senate action on the treaty may come today.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told the Senate he hoped to bring up the treaty for action before quitting tonight. But he said certain appropriations bills would have priority.

Herter was before the appropriations subcommittee to testify in support of his department's budget requests.

Johnson, a member of the subcommittee, asked him whether any more goodwill trips are planned by President Eisenhower between now and January, when his term expires.

"No, not so far as I know," Herter replied.

Herter said the fact that the

49 Million Pigs Is U.S. Estimate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today estimated this year's spring pig crop at 49,103,000 head, a surprising decrease of 16 per cent from last year's spring crop.

This crop will provide the pork supply next fall and winter. A decline of upwards of 12 per cent had been forecast. This downturn is producers' reaction against a sharp drop in hog prices last year.

The indicated smaller crop virtually assures farmers considerably better prices for their spring crop hogs than a year ago.

This could have a bearing on the election this fall in the important Midwestern livestock states. GOP farm officials had cautioned farmers that there was need for a downward adjustment in hog production.

Pro-Westerner Loses

BETRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Sami Solh, veteran pro-Western political leader, was defeated Sunday in the second round of Lebanon's parliamentary elections. It may mean the end of the political road for the man who has been premier five times since his country became a republic 14 years ago.

Solh lost out to Adnan Hakim, a Moslem extremist who heads the Najada party sympathetic to President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic. Hakim wants to give the Moslems a bigger role in Lebanon's half-Christian, half-Moslem government.

Japanese government felt compelled to cancel its invitation for Eisenhower to visit Japan was a very unfortunate development, but he said he thought the damage to U.S. prestige had been definitely overdrawn in some quarters.

He testified it was difficult to appraise the long range effects, adding that the events in Japan in the next six to 12 months will be an important factor.

The treaty, already ratified by Japan, has been tentatively scheduled for action each day since last Thursday.

Giants Look Just as Bad Under Sheehan

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

The diagnosis was wrong. Those San Francisco Giants weren't suffering from Rigneyitis after all.

If owner Horace Stoneham hoped to jog his club back to life when he replaced manager Bill Rigney with head scout Tom (Clancy) Sheehan last weekend, he neglected to let the Giants in on his motive. They've looked just as bad for Sheehan as they did for Rigney—only quicker.

It took the Giants 56 games under Rigney to lose three in a row this season, but they matched that slump in just four games under Clancy. They tumbled 5½ games off the pace in the National League race in a two-night doubleheader loss at Milwaukee Tuesday night.

The sweep, 9-6 and 2-1 in 12 innings, moved the second-place Braves within 3½ games of front-running Pittsburgh. The Pirates defeated St. Louis 3-2 as reliever Roy Face saved Vern Law's 11th victory, tops in the majors.

Cincinnati cracked Los Angeles 6-4. Last-place Philadelphia beat Chicago's Cubs 7-6 in 13 innings and led 7-5 in the second game of the two-night pair when the "curfew" suspended play after eight innings.

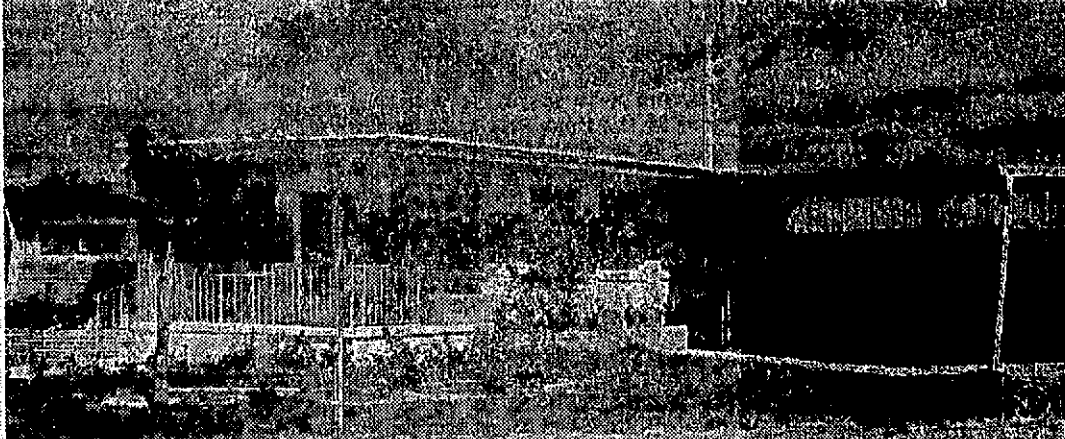

In the American League, the New York Yankees defeated Detroit 6-0 behind Whitey Ford's four-hit pitching and Mickey Mantle's two home runs for a half-game lead over Baltimore. The Orioles lost 4-3 Chicago, Cleveland defeated Washington 5-4, and Kansas City beat Boston 11-7 as Ed Daley, the AL's top winner, put away his 10th victory.

Sheehan ironically has followed the same pattern that made Rigney bail for second guesses—shifting Orlando Cepeda from first back to the outfield and using starting pitchers as relievers.

Willie Mays, Cepeda and pinch-hitter Dale Long each homered in the opener—but Mike McCormick and relievers Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes gave up just as many to the Braves' Del Crandall, Hank Aaron and Joe Adcock. Adcock's two-run shot off Loes that clinched it as Milwaukee came from behind with four runs in the fifth and hung the loss on O'Dell (2-7).

In the second game, Sheehan called on ace starter Sam Jones for relief in the 12th and the Braves lagged. Sad Sam (9-6) with the loss, Al Spangler's one-out bunt single, a wild pitch, a walk and Reg Schoendienst's single did it. Bob Buhl (7-3) won it with three innings of shutout relief.

The Pirates, like the Braves, yanked their seventh victory in eight games after scoring twice in the fifth against Bob Gibson (6-1) Singles by Bill Maperoski, Bill Virdon and Dick Groat, who also knocked in a third-inning did the job. Face then saved it, coming on with a run home and men on second and first with none out in the ninth.

The relief ace picked off pinch-runner Curt Simmons at second and then struck out Daryl Spencer and pinch-hitter Stan Musial.

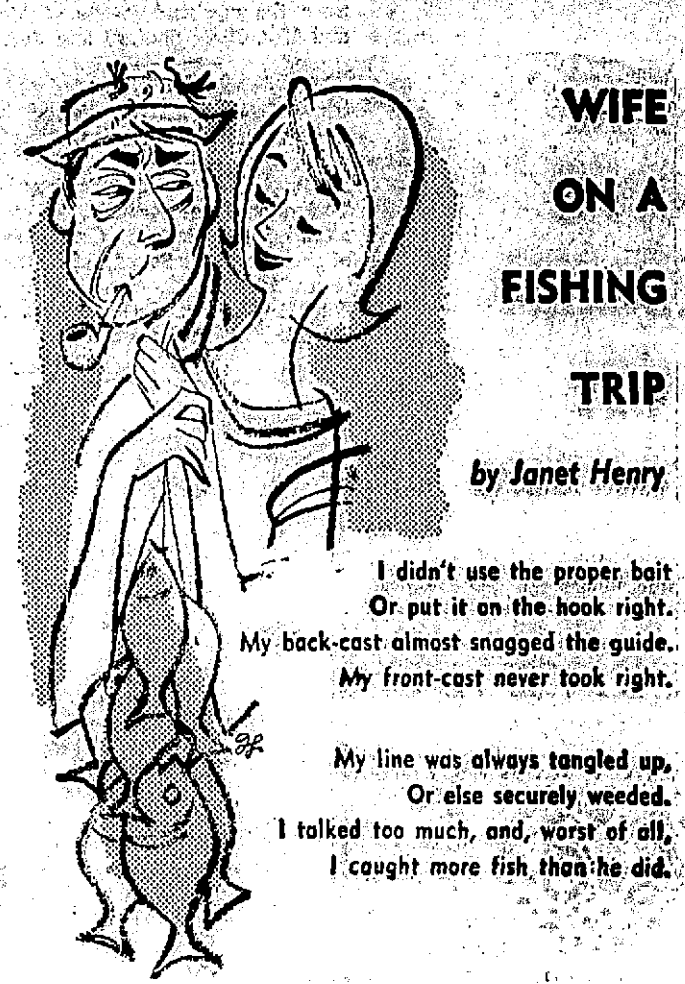

A two-run homer by Wally Post, just returned to the Reds, beat the Dodgers and southpaw Johnny Podres (6-6) in the fifth inning. Bob Purkey (6-3) was the winner. He gave up two-run homers by Norm Larker and John Roseboro in the sixth. Larker, 4-for-4, took over the NL batting lead with a .344 average.

Bernie Banks of the Cubs jumped into the major league home run lead by hitting his 19th and 20th in the first game. A two-out single by Tony Curry decided it and defeated reliever Glen Hobbie (6-0).

The second game, to be completed tonight, was played under protest by the Cubs when the Phils took the lead with two unearned runs in the fifth. Cub Manager Lou Boudreau protested when Tony Gonzalez was allowed to score from first after a fan picked up a wild peg by Chicago second baseman Don Zimmer.

To Demolish Shrine

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Officials of the Roman Catholic Church have decided to demolish the crumbling Shrine of Our Lady of Guadalupe and rebuild it. Abbot Gregorio Aguilar of the 400-year-old church said Monday. The church, 2½ miles north of Mexico City, was built on the site where tradition says the Virgin Mary appeared to Juan Diego, an Indian, in 1531.

In recent years depletion of the underground water beneath Mexico City has caused a settling of the soil which has seriously affected many old buildings.

Mantle Leads Yankees Over Detroit 6-0

By ED WILKS Associated Press Sports Writer

Mickey Mantle's homered but Hammerin' Whitey Ford had no longer a question mark and the New York Yankees have linked Frank Lary's fix for a half-game lead that's bigger than it looks in the American League pennant race.

The Mick, limping on bum legs drove in three runs with a pair of homers in support of Ford's four-hit shutout for a 6-0 job of the Tigers and Lary at Detroit Tuesday night. It was the first victory in almost a month for Ford, who had lost three in a row for only the second time in his nine-year career.

It also was the Yankees' second victory of the year over Lary—a right-hander they had managed to beat just twice in 14 decisions over two seasons.

While the Yankees won their fifth in a row, the Chicago White Sox clipped second-place Baltimore 4-3. Cleveland defeated Washington 6-4 and Kansas City cracked Boston 11-7, despite two home runs and four RBI by Ted Williams.

In the National League, Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 3-2 but the Pirates' lead was trimmed to 3½ games by second-place Milwaukee. The Braves swept a two-night doubleheader from San Francisco, 9-6 and 2-1 in 12 innings. Cincinnati rapped Los Angeles 6-4. Philadelphia defeated Chicago's Cubs 7-6 in 13 innings and led 7-5 in the second game of the two-night pair when it was halted by curfew after eight innings.

Ford (3-5), the stubby southpaw charged with the Yankees' only two losses in 17 games, bounced back by giving up nothing but singles while extending the Tigers' scoreless slump through 27 innings.

Lary (0-7), now 22-8 lifetime against the Yanks, was beaten in the fourth when Roger Maris tripled and came in on a wild pitch. He gave up 11 of New York's 14 hits, including both of Mantle's shots.

The White Sox, after losing four in a row, jumped past Detroit into fourth place on a tie-breaking home run by Jim Landis in the ninth. Landis, tagging reliever Chuck Estrada (6-3) with the defeat, also drove in a second-inning run and nailed a Baltimore runner at the plate with a peg from center field. Frank Baumann (4-3) won it in relief.

A two-out, two-run double by Johnny Temple in the sixth brought the Indians from behind against Washington's Pedro Ramos (3-9). Mideast Grant (5-2), padded his career record over the nats to 13-0, but needed Johnny Klippstein's three innings of shutout relief.

Southpaw Bud Daley (10-2), the AL's top winner, took his ninth in a row with relief help from Bob Trowbridge in a four-run Boston eighth. Jerry Casale (2-7) dropped his seventh straight failing to get a man out in a five-run first. Jerry Lumpe and Marv Throneberry homered for the A's. Williams, hitting eight home runs in two weeks, now has 11 for the year and a career total of 503.

EYES TURN GLASSY — Ingemar Johansson's eyes turn glassy as he sinks to the canvas after being hit by Floyd Patterson, right, early in fifth round of their title bout in New York. Patterson knocked out Johansson in the fifth round to become the first man to regain the heavyweight crown.

1 Tilt victim's head all the way back to open air passage. Try to keep head lower than the rest of the body, if possible.

2 Blow through nose or mouth, making tight seal over both with lips. Or blow through mouth only, closing nose with fingers.

3 If chest does not inflate at first attempt, quickly check to see if throat is blocked by foreign articles or tongue.

4 Inflate chest about 10 times a minute—inhale while the victim exhales. Place a handkerchief on the mouth, if desired.

BREATH OF LIFE—Rescue breathing—the use of a person's breath to revive someone who is unable to breathe for himself—is the oldest and most effective form of resuscitation. An improved technique is shown in sketches above and is recommended by the Red Cross and medical organizations. Absence of breathing movements, blue color in lips and fingernails are danger signs of lack of oxygen in the blood. When in doubt, begin rescue breathing; no harm can result from it. "The air you breathe is not "used up." It contains enough oxygen to save a person's life. "Two added notes: If victim's stomach fills with air, gently press it with your hand. And for infants, use smaller inflations, about 20 times a minute.

800 in 1927, an era in which the tax bite was mild compared to what it is today.

At separate press conferences Tuesday, Johansson and Patterson said they would like the third fight within 90 days. Naturally the promoting Feature Sports Inc. was more than anxious to oblige. Patterson, slated as becoming the first former heavyweight king to regain the crown, said he had a contract for a third fight with Ingro and intended to fulfill it.

"If I should win," he said, "I would like to negotiate with other contenders, possibly (Sonny) Liston.

Liston, the holiest and heaviest hitter among the contenders, meets Zora Polley of Chandler, Ariz., at Denver July 18. Liston is from Philadelphia.

"I want the return," said Johansson, 27, who suffered the first defeat of his pro career. "Patterson was fresher and stronger this time. He caught me with a good punch and that was that. Maybe next time it will be different. I always said anything can happen in a fight. This time it happened the better for him. The next time it can be my turn."

Tax Bite May Delay Return Heavy Match

By MURRAY ROSE Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson have a problem that should happen to everyone. They would like to fight again within 90 days and earn maybe a million bucks apiece. But they may not be able to afford it this year because of the tremendous tax bite.

The two young heavyweights, recognized champion Patterson, and the former champion Johansson, may have earned a total of more than a million dollars each for their second fight Monday night.

So the answer to whether there will be a rubber match this year most likely will be furnished by their lawyers and financial advisers.

The explosive fight, in which Patterson regained the title by flattening the Swede in the fifth round, lured 31,082 paying fans and $924,891 to the Polo Grounds. Irving Kahn, the president of Teleprompter which handled the closed circuit television, movies and radio, said the extras will gross about $3,000,000. Of this, he said optimistically, the fighters should collect between $800,000 and $900,000 each in addition to $175,000 each from the gate receipts.

Gene Tunney set an all-time high of $90,443 for his second fight with Jack Dempsey at Chicago.

Mayor Nikolai Bobrovnikov and his party dropped in for a 15-minute glimpse at the open-air movie en route to the reception. Then Robert Taylor and Julie London came on in "Saddle in the Wind" and Bobrovnikov stayed an hour longer until it was apparent how the story came out.

Two Killed in Auto Accident

EUDORA, Ark. (AP)—An automobile and a pickup truck collided near Eudora last night, killing one man and injuring two others.

J. P. (Buddy) George Jr., of Eudora, was killed. He was a passenger in the car, driven by Clarke Mosley.

Eudora police said Mosley, agriculture teacher at Eudora High School, was hospitalized in good condition at Lake Village. The pickup driver, identified only as a man named Burgess, escaped with minor injuries.

The collision occurred on a rural road off Highway 189 about five miles south of here.

Mrs. Franklin Nelson Horton

Miss Joan Rae Dodd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Raymond Dodd of Little Rock, became the bride of Franklin Nelson Horton, Lt. U. S. Army, at a ceremony solemnized June 18 at 4:30 p. m. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Horton of Hope.

The Rev. J. L. Dodd of Gordonville, brother of the bride, performed the double-ring ceremony at the Immanuel Baptist Church in Little Rock, assisted by Dr. W. O. Vaughn, Jr., pastor of the church. The music was provided by Miss Helen Reed of Bauxite, organist, and E. Amos Baker who sang "Because" and "A Wedding Prayer." Candles were lighted by Misses Jean and Joan Balfour.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a formal, long wedding gown of white peau de soie designed in a princess silhouette. An empire bodice with brief sleeves and a crescent neckline was ornamented with imported re-embroidered Alencon lace, highlighted by a bow of peau de soie at the center front of the bodice. The billowing skirt swept into a wide chapel train. She wore a fingertip illusion veil on a French tiara of pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid on a Bible.

Vows were exchanged before an altar entwined with greenery and enhanced by baskets of white stocks.

Mrs. J. L. Dodd of Gordonville, Va., was matron of honor for her sister-in-law, Miss Cathy Wiley of Atkins was maid of honor, and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Mary Charlene Horton, was the silk linen sheath with a matching bridesmaid. They wore white three-quarter length jacket. She sheaths of silk organza over taffeta had matching accessories and feta and red velvet caplets trimmed with miniature red rosebuds her wedding bouquet. After their and tiny veils. Each carried a presentation bouquet of long-stemmed red roses.

Parents' Unhappy Marriage Makes Daughter Fear for Own

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen Worden Erskine: My parents have been married 17 years. I thought they were happy years until I found out that my mother was running around with other men. She is good to me and my brothers, but sometimes she brings men friends home. My father, the best father in the world, is heart-broken. He loves my mother as do we all. I asked her if she loved father. She said she had never loved him. Now she stays at a friend's house most of the time. When she does come home she never sleeps with father.

I'm getting married this month but the way things are going I've come to fear marriage. Can you help me straighten things out so our family won't be separated? Please print this so I can show your answer to my parents. I read your column every night. I think it's wonderful how you help others. Maybe you can help us. —Heart-broken Reader and daughter, of Clarksdale, Miss., were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Blair Shuford and Joe.

Dear Heart-broken Reader: You

Mrs. Johnny Patten and daughter of Little Rock are visiting in Hope with Rufus Herndon, Jr.

Robert Jackson, Registered Technician from Branch Hospital attended the National Convention of the American Society of X Ray Technicians in Cincinnati, Ohio, June 19-17. Mr. Jackson took a refresher in Radiolotopes.

aren't experienced enough nor I sufficiently acquainted with the truth of this situation, to pass judgment. We don't know all that has gone on between your mother and father. Of the two, she is the more to be pitied for, after 17 years of married life she admits that her marriage has been loveless. Henrik Ibsen once said, "Marriage is a thing you've got to give your whole mind to." Your mother has not, else she never would have sold love short. There are two kinds of love: the selfish and the selfless. Your mother still seeks the former under the mistaken belief that there is happiness. But not until she can find it in her heart to put self aside and pour out the pent-up affection inside her upon her family, will she ever achieve true happiness.

The fact that she and your father have been unhappy should in no wise cause you to fear for your marriage. Fate has given you a lesson. Make the most of it. My leaflet on Marital Harmony goes to you today. Give it to your parents along with this column.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine: Help! I am a teen-age girl who can't date until I'm 18. From now until then all I can do is go with three couples to a ball game and there have to be two parents in the car going and coming back. When Mother and Daddy get with friends, all she talks about is the good times she had when she was young. I'm having an awful time. June 19-17. Mr. Jackson took a refresher in Radiolotopes.

But who cares besides me? —Tru-

Dear Tru-Blu: It is because your parents do care that they are so protective. The following letter which came in the same mail with yours will help you to understand why. It is from a teen-age girl who says she is "very much in trouble" because she "let a boy go too far." When she found out that she was going to have a baby she called the boy but he had moved away. "O.K. come by the situation" she left home and got a job. "I hardly get by with what I make," she wrote. "My problem is that I don't have anybody to help me when I need help. I would like to go to a maternity home for unwed mothers but how, where, and what shall I do after the baby comes?" It is from situations like this that your parents are trying to protect you. "Run son with them" but understand their love!

Dear Helen Worden Erskine:

I am 12 and friends with a boy in another city. He sent me a Valentine last February. Would it be proper for me to send him one next year? Please send me your Teen-Age Code. —Miss J.P.

Dear Miss J.P.: Don't cross a bridge till you come to it. A lot can happen between now and next February 14. Wait and see if the boy's friend sends you another Valentine. Should he, then reply with a little thank-you note. The boys, not the girls, usually do the Valentine sending. My Teen-Age Code has been mailed to you.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

To The Voters OF HEMPSTEAD COUNTY:

When Elected Your County Judge, I Will:

Oris O. Byers

1. Devote My Full Time to the Duties of The Office.
2. Advertise and take bids on all equipment and supplies purchased by the County.
3. Recommend and work for the employment of a Probation Officer to act under the supervision of the Judge of the Circuit Court, the Judge of the Probate Court, and the Juvenile Court and will see the advice of the Hope Ministerial Alliance in dealing with all juvenile problems.
4. Publish quarterly, in your County newspaper, a complete itemized statement of all monies received and all monies paid out and to whom and for what it was paid.
5. Not act, or attempt to act, as the County Court of Hempstead County without doing so in compliance with the law. By that, I mean that on any matters that requires the action of the County or Juvenile Court, I will convene Court, with the County Clerk acting as Clerk of said Court present, and all matters handled by me as the County Court or the Juvenile Court will be handled strictly according to law and a record will be made at the time of all such proceedings. To illustrate: If a taxpayer believes that his taxes are too high and he has filed a complaint with the Equalization Board and failed to obtain relief from said Board and appeals to the County Court, I will hear and determine such matters on the evidence, and according to the law and will not pass on such matters in any other manner.

6. The Federal Government buys farm produce and takes it off the market to aid in adjusting the farm prices for the benefit of the farmer. These surplus farm products are stored in warehouses over the county and the Federal Government makes it available to the needy people in every County in the United States. This food is distributed by and through the County Welfare Department, but the only agency that can bring said food to the County, to be distributed, is the County Judge. In other words if the County Judge fails to request said surplus food products and to cooperate with the Federal Government, the food products will not be available for the needy people of the County. I think this is a splendid plan and I endorse it, but I think it is applicable and that surplus food products should be available to the people who need it EACH AND EVERY YEAR. For some reason, better known to himself, the present County Judge has only cooperated with the Federal Government in distribution of said surplus food products during the years he was up for election and each odd numbered year, in which no County election was held, the people who were in need of this food and entitled to it have been denied, while the food products were stored in Government Warehouses not doing anyone any good, all because it was not Election Year. When I am elected your County Judge I assure you that I will request and use my efforts to see that said surplus food products are made available to the people of our County each and every year.

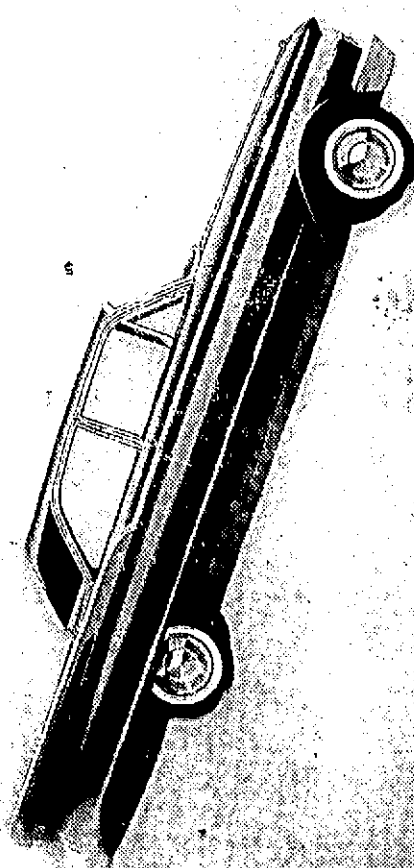

I sincerely solicit your vote for County Judge on July 26.

Sincerely,

ORIS O. BYERS

Italian Urges Safeguard for Disarmament

By GUSTAV SVENSSON
GENEVA (AP) — Italian Delegate Gaetano Martino urged the disarmament conference today to set up committees to study disarmament safeguards and prepare for a veto-free international police force. He was angrily rebuffed by a Communist delegate for trying to "deceive public opinion."

The working groups Martino proposed would study implementation of control measures and methods for preserving the balance of armed forces throughout the disarmament process.

Martino said the police force must be international rather than made up of national militia or police units as provided by the Soviet disarmament plan.

If countries keep police units large enough to contribute to an international force, he said, they could be used for aggression.

He also said the Soviet proposal to eliminate all general staffs would necessitate a revision of the U.N. Charter.

Martino spoke at the 10-nation conference marked time pending the return of the chief Western disarmament negotiators from consultations in Washington, London and Paris.

Romanian Deputy Foreign Minister Eduard Mezincescu snapped back at Martino in one of the most intemperate speeches so far at the conference.

Raising his voice, he told the Western delegations: "You don't really want disarmament. You say you don't trust people. May we not trust you. How can we trust a power like the United States which makes aggressive incursions on our territory. Not even the U.S. Senate or members of the aggressive NATO Alliance knew about these incursions which brought the world to the brink of war," he said, referring to the U2 spy plane incident.

"If such grave decisions are taken in the so-called open so-

Emmet Man Tells Stories About Old Days

"I CAN REMEMBER WHEN... reminisces J. M. (Mac) Garland, retired Emmet merchant, to Barbara Faulkner, an employee of Arkla Village, where Nevada-Hempstead counties "Old Timers' Day" will be held July 9. Arkansas pioneers like Garland, who is 83 years young, will be specially honored and vie for various prizes during a full afternoon and evening of festivities. The old timers' jubilee will include fiddlers' and gospel quartet contests, free buggy rides, the appearance of several dignitaries, and a broadcast by the famed Louisiana Hayride folks music program. It also will help observe Arkla Village's first full season as a tourist attraction and unique manufacturing center. Garland and Barbara are seated in a genuine Victorian carriage on display at the Village.

Doesn't See Involving Others

WASHINGTON (AP) — Linus Pauling expressed concern today over a request by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that he name fellow scientists who helped him campaign against nuclear weapons tests.

The world-famed scientist said he feared they "would be subpoenaed before this committee and subjected to the treatment to which I have been subjected." He did not elaborate on what treatment he had in mind.

"I don't want to hide anybody," he said, and finally agreed to decide during a lunch recess whether to comply with a request for names.

Pauling said his decision would be reached in consultation with a L. Wiran, Los Angeles attorney accompanying him.

city of the United States, what guarantees can we have that the United States will actually fulfill its obligations under a disarmament treaty?"

The subcommittee is looking into propaganda campaigns against nuclear testing, particularly whether Communists are involved.

Pauling advocates a permanent ban on nuclear tests. He told the subcommittee he is proud his efforts may have played some part in this country's policy to suspend such testing and seek a worldwide ban.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.), acting subcommittee chairman, agreed to hear Pauling in public session when the scientist objected to a plan to question him first behind closed doors, the usual practice.

State Needs $8 Million for Road

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas needs about eight million dollars more in federal matching funds for the interstate highway system during the next fiscal year.

That's the estimate of Highway Director F. R. Oliver.

He said today there are several projects in Arkansas which should be placed under contract so they won't interfere with other non-related projects.

Last week the Highway Department learned it would get about 30 1-2 million dollars, with $18 1-2 million being a federal matching money. But the state could use an additional eight million, Oliver said.

He didn't name the interstate projects which require early completion.

Oliver said the Highway Department apparently will have

Nation to Undergo Self Examination

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in eight years the nation will undertake a searching self-examination to see where it is going. This self-examination will become plain in the presidential campaign.

The personal and national humiliation inflicted on President Eisenhower — at the summit in Japan, on Okinawa — plus the anti-Americanism demonstrated in Cuba and other Latin American countries bear testimony to this:

1. In eight years the Communists have increased enormously in power, self-confidence, and influence.

2. American prestige and influence have suffered damage.

3. One of the cornerstones of the American defense system — Japan — may be in jeopardy. If the Communist, neutralist, and anti-American sentiment combine to boil over there, Japan can be lost to the defense system.

In the 1952 presidential campaign the country was unhappy over the Korean War and split down the middle by McCarthyism which had made Americans suspicious even of one another. It was a time of deep trouble.

Eisenhower promised peace in Korea. At home he looked like the man who could restore order and harmony. He was elected. He did get peace in Korea; he gave the nation a sense of stability, and McCarthyism died.

But he took no new direction in foreign policy. He took over and extended the basic foreign policy established by President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

This can be simply stated as the policy of containment, of building military bases and alliances around the edges of the Communist world. It was a policy established when the United States had a monopoly on the hydrogen bomb and there were no missiles.

In addition, Eisenhower took over and continued the Truman-Acheson foreign aid program.

But in recent years the United States has suffered one shock after another. Iraq dropped out of the Middle East defense system against Russia; the Arab world, led by Egypt's President Nasser, asserted itself after centuries and was no longer docile to the West; anti-American riots developed in Latin America when Vice President Richard M. Nixon visited there. Yet, because these events occurred separately over a period of years they tended to be blurred in American memory.

There was no deep self-examination in the 1956 campaign when Eisenhower was re-elected. On the surface, the world was calm and America seemed to have good control.

The changes in the Communist world were profound, starting with the death of Stalin in 1953, shortly after Eisenhower became president.

Stalin's idea of Communist expansion and influence seemed limited to acts of terror, threats of force, and military action where possible, as in Korea.

His principal successor, Premier Nikita Khrushchev, repudiated both Stalin and his policy. He soft-pedaled force and began increasing Communist influence with propaganda, economic help, and undeniable evidence of the quick progress to be made under communism.

But while Russian foreign policy shifted its tactics in a revolutionary way, American foreign policy has remained pretty much the same.

This policy in the years ahead must undergo intense reappraisal, for there is no reason to think anti-Americanism will not grow or that Russian power and influence will not increase.

It is certain American influence is not increasing. How can it be made to? That will be the central foreign policy issue of the presidential campaign.

ment this year because he refused to submit the affidavit required by the state law, Act 10 of 1958.

Carr has left the University. Gephhardt signed an affidavit under protest and was rehired at Central.

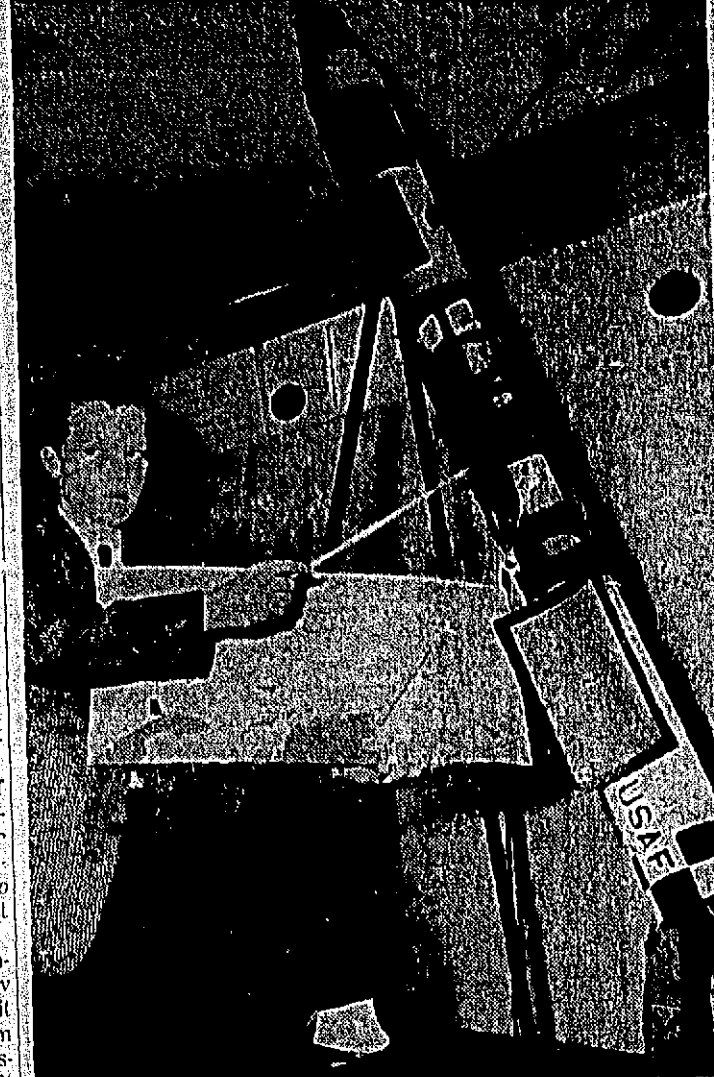

The teachers said they submitted statements denying ever having belonged to a subversive organization and offered to answer questions which authorities "might constitutionally ask."

They appealed to the U. S. court after the Arkansas Supreme Court upheld the law. In their appeal, they contended the law was designed to bring about "emasculatation" of any group favoring compliance with the Supreme Court's 1954 school desegregation decision.

Forest Products

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nation agreed to hear the appeals of Max al Forest Products Week would Carr, former University of Arkansas music teacher, and Ernest T. Gephhardt, printing instructor at Little Rock Central High School.

Original Arkansas Traveler Found

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A painting believed to be the original of the famed Arkansas Traveler has been restored and hung in the hall of the Arkansas History Commission.

It will be displayed at an open house from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Sunday, when Dr. John L. Ferguson, new commission executive secretary, and his wife will be honored with a reception.

The painting, known to most Arkansians, shows a well-dressed traveler on horseback talking to a fiddling maintainer seated in front of his child-filled cabin.

The artist was Edward Payson Washburn, who was born in 1831 and died of pneumonia at 29. Numerous copies are in existence.

Carl Blacklock, a Little Rock artist, who spent a year cleaning and restoring the commission's find, is authority for the belief that it is the Washburn original.

It was included in a Washburn collection given to the commission in 1957 by heirs of the late C. W. and Ella Langford Dodd of Russellville and Morrilton.

New Bishops Elected by Methodists

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Election of five new bishops and revision of the boundaries of 11 episcopal areas are the top matters before the South Central Jurisdictional Conference of the Methodist Church opening today. Successors will be named for retiring Bishops A. Frank Smith of the Houston-San Antonio Area and Dana Dawson of Kansas and the late Bishop H. Bascom Wells of Nebraska, who died last November.

Delegates are expected to give formal approval to creating new episcopal areas for San Antonio and Louisiana and new bishops will be elected for these. The General Council of the denomination has already approved the new areas.

San Antonio is now included in an area with Houston, Louisiana and Arkansas, formerly one episcopal area administered by Bishop Paul B. Martin of Little Rock.

The South Central Jurisdictional Conference includes also New Mexico, Oklahoma and Missouri.

There are no formal campaigns prior to election of bishops. Each voting delegate will write on a ballot the names of five persons he considers best qualified for the jobs.

When one minister receives the necessary 100 votes or 60 per cent of the ballots cast, voting will continue with each delegate writing four names, and so on.

Balloting begins this afternoon and will continue from time to time during business sessions until five bishops have been named. Convention officials hope the voting will be completed by Saturday afternoon.

Jury Picked in Tax Evasion Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A jury was chosen today for the U. S. District Court trial of C. H. Edkins, 60, of Stuttgart, on a charge of income tax evasion.

Edkins was indicted for allegedly under-reporting and underpaying taxes for 1953, 1954 and 1955. According to the Internal Revenue

MAJOR FIELDS OF STUDY IN COLLEGES

WHAT THEY STUDY—Survey of American colleges and universities at the beginning of the 1959-60 school year revealed the ratio of students in fields of study as illustrated in News-Graphic above. Largest percentages of men were in engineering and business, while education continued as the major field on the distaff side. This was also true of female students doing graduate work (49.5% in education). For men, however, most popular graduate subjects were the biological, physical sciences (23.9%). Data: National Industrial Conference Board.

GOATHAM RUINS—You're not looking at the ruins of the Roman Forum, not with the George Washington Bridge in the background. Vine-covered pillars formed an Italian colonnade high above the Hudson River in Manhattan. They were installed 40 years ago to border a private mansion long since gone. Weakened by exposure, they're being torn down as a safety measure.

government which recognizes and corrects the mistakes committed by the present government."

The Soviet Premier said the demonstrations, that helped overthrow the U.S.-backed government in Korea and Turkey and those in Japan opposing the U.S.-Japan security treaty showed that "the American imperialists and their adventurist policy have so discredited themselves that they have become hateful not only to the peoples of Socialist countries, but also to the peoples of their allies."

Khrushchev shrugged off the importance of U.S. spy plane flights. They missed photographing the Soviet Union's rocket bases, he claimed, discovered nothing of importance to U.S. defense and failed to uncover "powerful military means" the Soviet Union has developed.

Red Agent Jailed in Netherlands

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — Police have arrested a Russian they claim was engaged in espionage while registered as a student at the Hague Institute for Social Studies.

Public prosecutor Jan C. Maris said he ordered the arrest of Jan Smirnov, 32. Monday. Police said Smirnov's wife and their child took refuge in the Soviet Embassy. Mrs. Smirnov is expecting a second child.

The Soviet Embassy lodged a protest with the Dutch government.

Booneville Voters Approve Bonds

Booneville voters approved a $130,000 bond issue to build a hospital yesterday.

In another election, voters at England rejected proposals to keep parking meters and to permit municipal purchase of a privately owned waterworks.

The Booneville vote was 471-29 in favor of the bond issue.

The proposal to keep England's parking meters, which have been on trial for a year, lost 381-247.

England voters were against the waterworks proposal 338-247.

there might be 10 to 12 opposition votes.

A two-thirds majority vote is required to ratify a treaty.

Following Senate ratification, only President Eisenhower's signature and an exchange of ratification documents with Japan are needed to make the treaty effective.

Plans called for living the U.S. documents to Hawaii, where Eisenhower is now resting en route home from his Far Eastern tour.

Japan completed the last of the preliminary formalities early today as Emperor Hirohito put the imperial seal to the treaty soon after Premier Nobusuke Kishi's Cabinet had given it final approval.

The 10-year treaty replaces one signed with Japan in 1951. It is designed to give the Japanese more status of an equal ally rather than a conquered power.

One year's notice after the 10-year period is required to make changes in the treaty's terms.

The United States agrees for the first time in writing to come to Japan's defense in case of attack, and relinquishes a former right to crush internal disorder in Japan. It also agrees to consult with the Japanese government before making any changes in its armed forces, weapons or bases there and before deploying Japan-based American forces anywhere in Asia.

It retains for the life of the treaty the right to maintain military bases in Japan, but gives up its veto power over letting a third nation have bases in Japan.

Texan Is Freed of Murder Charge

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Frank Davis, 51, a member of a prominent ranching family was freed of a murder charge Monday because an indictment failed to specify if he wore shoes when he allegedly stomped a man who later died.

The charge of murder with malice grew out of the death of attorney James L. Drought, 41, who died Feb. 17, two days after his car collided with one owned by Davis.

The indictment charged Davis beat and stomped the attorney, Dist. Atty. Charles Leek Jr., said he would submit the case to the July grand jury.

All Foes in Attacks on Gov. Faubus

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three of the candidates in the Arkansas governor's race made separate attacks on Gov. Orval Faubus today, charging that he stirred up fear and turmoil of various kinds in an effort to win a fourth term.

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, Joe Hardin and H. E. Williams issued statements from their Little Rock campaign headquarters as they prepared to swing out in tours of various parts of Arkansas.

Bennett linked a mysterious fusillade of shots at the office of segregationist attorney A. M. S. Bates to the governor's race. No one was injured by the bullets, which broke a window of Guthridge's Little Rock office early yesterday.

The attorney general said the shooting supported his prediction of several months ago that there would be a "created incident" designed to re-inflame the people of Arkansas and that such incident or incidents would be limited to reap votes in the primary this summer.

Guthridge, a candidate for attorney general, recently was rebuffed by the Pulaski County Grand Jury in his charges that widespread organized crime exists in the county.

Hardin struck at Faubus for hammering on Little Rock integration.

He said "screaming about Little Rock's school program won't help solve Arkansas' farm problem."

Chapter XXXIII

They sat, the three of them, in silence. They sat, while somewhere in that cluttered area of cot and brick - propped kitchen range and lumpy sofa a clock ticked relentlessly. McQueen's mind turned to Ry Buckner, who'd ridden to Hatchet on some mysterious mission, according to what Gulley had reported. He wished Buckner would show here; and then he thought, annoyed, what difference would one more man make? Buckner was just so many pounds of bone and gristle, the same as anyone else. On the other hand, there was something more to Buckner, and he began wondering how that could be.

He thought of Duke Jordan, a fugitive up until a few hours ago; and he thought of all the pursuers. Buckner among them; and he knew the difference then. With one exception, it had been the pursuers who were really the pursued—himself by the fear of showing that crack in his armor, Dorcas by her ambition, Gulley by his concern over Duke, Tull by his dark brutality. Spence Rigby by that virulence, hangtree fever. Only Ry Buckner had ridden as a free man, wanting no more than to reclaim a friendship, really, wanting only to believe in Duke Jordan again. That was what made Buckner formidable, his being free of selfishness, his being unpursued. And that was

Suspended Spa Judge Found Guilty

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A jury today found suspended County Judge H. C. Warren guilty of mismanaging county funds and fixed a minimum fine of $500.

The jury recommended that the fine be suspended. Circuit Judge P. F. Dobbs didn't indicate whether he would follow the recommendation.

Warren's several-month-old suspension from the judge's office continues in effect automatically pending a final determination of the case, probably by the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Warren was charged with the misdemeanor county under state Constitutional Amendment 10 which requires a governmental unit to stay within its income.

The jury said several times during the trial, which began yesterday, that it had deadlocked.

Dobbs recessed it overnight after Foreman Roy Troutman twice reported a vote of 11-1. Twice this morning a 11-1 deadlock was reported.

Jurors included seven white men, two white women, a Negro woman and two Negro men.

Dobbs scheduled formal sentencing for Friday morning.

Improvement of the farming situation, Hardin said. He promised that, if elected, he would launch a program to find answers to the production and marketing problems of the farmer.

This would be accomplished through appointment of a "Governor's Advisory Committee on Agriculture," the Gady businessman-planter said.

Williams took aim at what he called the Faubus administration's policy of making or holding back small welfare raises as a political maneuver.

He promised that if he won the race, he would free the state's old persons from the fear that they had to "vote right to eat regularly."

Williams also said he would raise welfare grants without increasing taxes.

Turning to the $5 a month increase allowed to welfare clients earlier this year, Williams said "the lowest form of demagoguery was exhibited in March...when our welfare folks were given a small raise just before the fourth term candidate made his unjustified announcement to ask that his reign be perpetuated."

Earlier, Hardin had proposed a three-point improvement program for the University of Arkansas Medical Center at Little Rock.

why he wished Ry Buckner were here now in this hour of need.

This thinking gave him a glimpse of something else that he struggled to grasp, but his mind was sluggish from long worry. Then he got hold of it. Forget yourself, and you forget fear. Forget the personal man that was you, the personal needs, and you could stand straight as a rifle and know that long ago, in his youth, hands out there in the street, York and then forgotten. But it was worth recalling.

He was wrenched from thought by the alert look on Gulley's face, and at the same time he heard what Gulley heard; the knock on the street door. He got up and again went to the door and drew his gun as he stood to one side

"Who is it?" he asked.

"Me Rufe York. Let me in."

"You alone?"

"Just me. Come under a flag of truce, you might say. Let me in."

He slid back the bolt and saw the door give to York's hand, and all the while he held the gun ready. There was no one crowded behind York, no pack of Hatchet hands out there in the street. York stood in the office teetering slightly, more than a little drunk, and the lamplight gave a hard shine to his eyes. McQueen shut the door and bolted it. "All right, Rufe," he ordered, "get it said."

York took a couple of steps forward and so was able to see into the room where Gulley and Dorcas sat. Finding Dorcas here as a rope's a lot quicker and surer, he said. Finding Dorcas here as a rope's a lot quicker and surer, he said. Finding Dorcas here as a rope's a lot quicker and surer, he said.

McQueen said, "I'm not about to do that. Show some sense, makes what Spence wants done Rufe. You know better than to be mixed up in this, and so do the rest of the Hatchet boys. Get them together and take them home, didn't rate himself any bullet in whatever Duke's got coming the law will deal out to him."

York had been prepared for and felt stunned. Nobody had told this. His stubbornness showed in him. Tull had been shot, yet it the shake of his head. "In a court was as though he had expected it's who's got the most expensive such news."

"Plumb dead," York said. "A couple of our boys, comin' in late from huntin' Duke, stumbled into Sam after sundown and fetched him to Timmerman Gulch. That was after you and Duke and Buckner had gone through us. Sam won't be tellin' his story in court against Duke, and that makes the best reason of all why we ain't waitin' for Duke to get to court. Now you'd better make it easier for yourself, Virg."

"Go home, Rufe. Go home and take your crew with you. You throw bullets at me in Timmerman, but I'm forgetting that. You come here as a hangman, it's a different matter."

"We got men," York said, "A

About a dozen of us. We got guns and the cause to use 'em, and we've got a length of old telegraph pole to make a battering ram that will go through that door of yours like a match through soft butter."

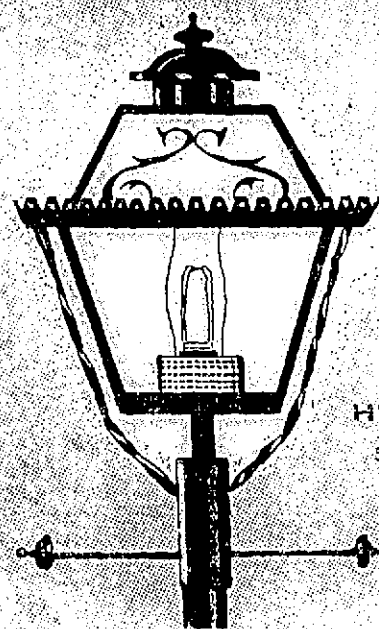

McQueen stepped to the door and slid back the bolt and opened the door with his free hand, temper strong in him as the sap of youth. "Get out of here, Rufe. Get out before I forget that flag of truce you're supposed to be carrying and boot your rump into one of the empty cells."

York looked into the next room, looked at Dorcas. "You go home, girl. Right away. Hear?"

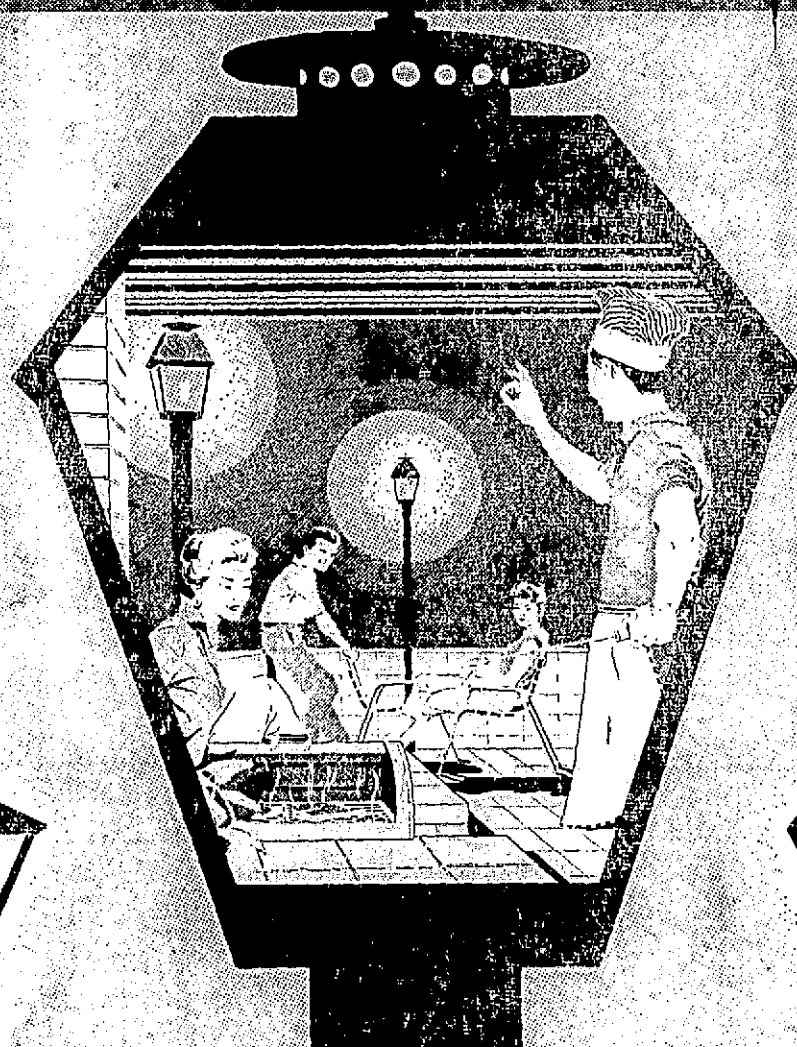

Dorcas did not look at him or answer.
